

Research News

March edition

Dear TRU Research Community,

This newsletter offers information about research funding, research news and events, and knowledge mobilization activities, and is designed to be inclusive and comprehensive. Pay special note to all the amazing events and activities scheduled for Research Week, March 23-28, and consider joining us for one of our upcoming Tap into Research events.

Should you have a research story to share, please get in touch.

Travel cancellations due to COVID-19

The three federal granting agencies are aware that the rapidly changing situation involving COVID-19 may have an impact on researchers with plans to travel for research-related activities. Individuals may decide to cancel trips as a result of various considerations and factors such as cancelled conferences, travel advisories (including those from Public Health Agency of Canada and Global Affairs Canada), or personal choice due to health or other concerns.

The agencies confirm that the reimbursement of non-refundable travel fees from agency funds is acceptable considering the impacts of COVID-19. This applies to the travel of both principal investigators and research personnel, when cancellation occurs as described above.

Given the uncertainty of the situation with COVID-19, the agencies recommend those traveling for agency-funded research purchase tickets that are at least partially refundable.

TRU gains representation on Council on Undergraduate Research

Dr. Will Garrett-Petts, Associate Vice-President, Research and Graduate Studies, has been elected as a Councillor-at-Large for the Council on Undergraduate Research starting July 1, and ending June 30, 2023. This is an important leadership opportunity that gives TRU a further voice on undergraduate research, training, programming and administration at the international level.

Anita Sharma recognized for her Spirit of Kindness

Dr. Anita Sharma, Manager, Research Services, has been awarded the Spirit of Kindness Award, and the Unsung Hero Award by the Canadian Association of Research Administrators (CARA). The Spirit of Kindness Award recognizes CARA members for their outstanding compassion toward colleagues in their workplace, the CARA community, and the international research administration community, while the Unsung Hero Award recognizes the hard work and dedicated volunteer efforts of CARA non-executive members.

Research initiatives

Tap into Research

As part of TRU's 50th anniversary celebration, Tap into Research is a series of pop-up lectures designed to bring research into the community. The events take place every two weeks in venues throughout the City. Thank you to Dr. Judy Duchscher, who presented on making the transition from student to health practitioner at the Noble Pig Brewhouse on March 2.

Undergraduate Researchers: In A Nutshell

- Just like the well-known Three Minute Thesis for graduate students, TRU's unique In a Nutshell is a wildly popular event that sees undergrad researchers deliver compelling presentations of their work to non-specialist judges. This event is coordinated by our Undergraduate Research Ambassadors, who have arranged amazing prizes!

Graduate Researchers: Three Minute Thesis \(3MT\)

- Learn how to distill your research, benefit from a series of workshops, meet and connect with other graduate students, and potentially win the top prize of $1,000 and a place in the Western Canadian Regional competition.

180-second Research Challenge

- Prove that it is possible for professors to deliver their research in three minutes or less with only a single slide. Great prizes are up for grabs, as are bragging rights. This event is coordinated by TRU's Faculty Research Mentors.
